Q. Consider a table "Employees" with attributes empId,empName and salary.
You are given the following code snippet to insert a new row in the above table using a dataset:

```
SqlConnection con = new SqlConnection("data source=atrgsql;initial catalog=sampledb;
user=sa;password=pass");
        SqlDataAdapter adapter = new SqlDataAdapter("select * from Employees", con);
        DataSet dataset = new DataSet();
        adapter.Fill(dataset, "Employees");
        DataRow row = dataset.Tables["Employees"].NewRow();
        row["emptId"] = "A1121";
        row["empName"] = "Mahesh Kumar";
        row["salary"] = 45000;
        dataset.Tables["Employees"].Rows.Add(row);
        adapter.Update(dataset);
```

What will be the result of executing the code snippet in an application, assuming there are no connection problems?

1). code throws an exception.
2). code fails to compile.
3). code compiles and executes , but does not insert any row.
4). a row is successfully inserted into the table.

Based on above code, identify the correct option using which Web API will retrieve value of the id parameter.

1). WebAPI will retrieve value of the id parameter using URI of the incoming HttpRequest.

2). WebAPI will retrieve value of the id parameter from the request body of the incoming request.

3). WebAPI will retrieve value of the id parameter using ActionName attribute.

4). WebAPI will retrieve value of the id parameter using NonAction attribute.

Q. Mika is developing an application using ASP.NET MVC. He has written the following code in the Model:

```
public class Guest
{
    [Required(ErrorMessage = "ID is Required")]
    public int GuestID { get; set; } [Required(ErrorMessage = "Name is Required")]
    public string GuestName { get; set; } [Required(ErrorMessage = "PhoneNumber is Required")]
    [StringLength(10, ErrorMessage = "Only 10 Characters Allowed")] public string PhoneNumber { get; set; }
```

He wants to make sure that the GuestID can accept 3 digits only.
Identify the code snippet to implement this functionality.

1). [StringLength(3, ErrorMessage = "Only 10 Characters Allowed")]
2). [RegularExpression(@"^\d{3}$", ErrorMessage = "Only Three Digits allowed")]
3). [RegularExpression(@"^\d{3}+", ErrorMessage = "Only Three Digits allowed")]
